BD CONSTRUCTION GARNERS AGC AWARDS

(KEARNEY, NE; OCTOBER 15, 2009) — BD Construction of Kearney, Nebraska, has been recognized in several award categories of the Nebraska Building Chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC), which strives to promote excellence in construction through training, education and positive relationships in the industry.

The Nebraska chapter awards were announced at the AGC Nebraska Building Chapter luncheon in September. BD Construction received the prestigious safety award for the second year in a row, an honor commending a zero incidence rate in 50,000+ working hours. In recognition of member participation in chapter activities, training programs and committee work, BD also received the state of Nebraska's Premier Member Firm award, and Mark Benjamin, CEO, accepted the Building Chapter Champion Award.

Additionally, five BD Construction employees were awarded the Premier Member's Circle for outstanding levels of participation with the chapter: Andy Bartling, Linette Butler, Craig Klingenberg, Rick Pettit and Ryan Quiring. Bartling and Pettit were also recognized for their completion of 10 supervisory training programs, which attests to their knowledge and skills as capable supervisors on the work site.

"Excellence is one of our guiding principles," stated Mark Benjamin, president and CEO of BD Construction, Inc., Kearney. "As a construction company, we strive to not only be positively involved with our organization, but to constantly self-evaluate for areas of improvement. We are pleased to be recognized for our dependability in this respect and for our endeavors in the improvement and maintenance of safety and supervision certification."
